

on a confusion rite the clambering towards an obfuscation habit then climbing on board somewhat NOT right-but-you're-not-quiiiite-sure of schedule, then? next? what? And? well? A little more clarity?

MAN. sits in car, wearing face mask and price nez, talks out thoughts into a micro recorder

OLD MAN. sits in car, waiting too, but seems to be unconsciously aware he's being speed on, but then again, he's looking all over the place. twibbi

MAN. Draws the drawing above out of his unhapiness and tries to tether it to the recordings but gets distracted by the nearby train sounds and records those instead

OLD MAN. Gets immortalized by the man's recordings which aren't that very good - more experimental if anything, but two people on Twitter "like" them.
